

Media Coverage of The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions

Center for Research on Gender in the Professions

May 2013

The Center for Research on Gender in the Professions report, The Persistence of Power and Prestige in the Professions, has received attention from both popular news and academic sources. Inga Kiderra of the UC San Diego News Center wrote the press release, which was picked up by numerous agencies. The report has also been written up in the Huffington Post and discussed on WBUR Radio Boston.

Press Release:

Kiderra, Inga. 2013. "End of Men'? Not Even Close, Says UC San Diego Report on Gender in the Professions." UC San Diego News Center. March 19. http://ucsdnews.ucsd.edu/pressreleases/end_of_men_not_even_close_says_uc_san_diego_report_on_gender_in_the_professions

"The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions: Report on the Professions of Law, Medicine, and Science & Engineering." 2013. Full Text Reports. March 22. <http://fulltextreports.com/2013/03/22/the-persistence-of-male-power-and-prestige-in-the-professions-report-on-the-professions-of-law-medicine-and-science-engineering/>

Brooks, Chad. 2013. "Highest-Paying Jobs Still Go to Men, Study Finds." Huffington Post. March 21. http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2013/03/21/highest-paying-jobs-go-to-men-wage-gap_n_2925148.html

Chakrabarti, Meghna and Anthony Brooks. 2013. "A Widening Gender Gap." WBUR Radio Boston. March 25. <http://radioboston.wbur.org/2013/03/25/gender>

Stone, Ken. 2013. "UCSD Scholars to 'End of Men' Folks: You've Gone Way Too Far, Baby." KPBS. March 19. <http://www.kpbs.org/news/2013/mar/19/ucsd-scholars-to-end-of-men-folks-youve-gone-way/>

Brooks, Chad. 2013. "Men Still Get the Highest Paying Jobs." Business News Daily. March 20. <http://www.businessnewsdaily.com/4178-gender-gap-workplace.html>

York, Tom. 2013. "Men's Roles in Workplace Engender Debate." San Diego Business Journal. April 15. <http://www.sdbj.com/news/2013/apr/15/mens-roles-workplace-engender-debate/> (subscription required)

Foley, James A. 2013. "'End of Men?' New Study Rejects Belief That Gender Equality Has Leveled." Nature World News. March 20. <http://www.natureworldnews.com/articles/916/20130320/end-men-new-study-rejects-belief-gender-equality-leveled.htm>

Ross, Heather Kathryn. 2013. "Despite High-profile Gains, Women Still Have Less Power, Prestige, and Income than Men." Healthline News. March 26. <http://www.healthline.com/health-news/policy-women-still-earn-less-than-men-032613>

"Males Retain Bulk of Power, Prestige in Post-Recession Economy." 2013. Science Blog. March 20. <http://scienceblog.com/61534/males-retain-bulk-of-power-prestige-in-post-recession-economy/>

Hosler, Amy. 2013. "Workplace Gender Gap Still Alive and Well." CityTownInfo.com. March 22. <http://www.citytowninfo.com/career-and-education-news/articles/workplace-gender-gap-still-alive-and-well-13032201>

UC San Diego. 2013. "'End of Men'? Not Even Close, Says UC San Diego Report on Gender in the Professions." YubaNet.com. March 20. http://yubanet.com/scitech/39-End-of-Men-39-Not-Even-Close-Says-UC-San-Diego-Report-on-Gender-in-the-Professions_printer.php

"Men still retain lion's share of power and prestige in US' workplaces post-recession." 2013. ANI News. March 21. <http://www.aninews.in/newsdetail8/story104282/men-still-retain-lion-039-s-share-of-power-and-prestige-in-us-039-workplaces-post-recession.html>

"Men still retain lion's share of power and prestige in US' workplaces post-recession." 2013. Truth Dive. March 21. <http://truthdive.com/2013/03/21/Men-still-retain-lion-s-share-of-power-and-prestige-in-US-workplaces-post-recession.html>

"The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions." 2013. University of Toronto Centre for Industrial Relations and Human Resources Library. March. <http://cirhr.library.utoronto.ca/services/perry-work-report/highlights/the-persistence-of-male-power-and-prestige-in-the-professions>

Full Text Reports. 2013. "Feed Item: The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions: Report on the Professions of Law, Medicine, and Science & Engineering." Harvard TagTeam. March 22. http://tagteam.harvard.edu/hub_feeds/1814/feed_items/142150

Dawson, Heather. 2013. "The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions: Report on the Professions of Law, Medicine, and Science & Engineering." Women and Gender Studies: News from LSE library. April 5. <http://www.scoop.it/t/women-and-gender-studies>

Full Text Reports. 2013. "The Persistence of Male Power and Prestige in the Professions: Report on the Professions of Law, Medicine, and Science & Engineering." SiloBreaker. March 22. http://news.silobreaker.com/the-persistence-of-male-power-and-prestige-in-the-professions-report-on-the-professions-of-law-medicine-and-science--engineering-5_2266697098508369920

Vidal, Matt and Inga Kiderra. 2013. "'End of Men'? Not Even Close, Says UC San Diego Report on Gender in the Professions." Work in Progress, Blog of the American Sociological Association Organizations, Occupations, and Work Section. March 20. <http://workinprogress.oowsection.org/2013/03/20/end-of-men-not-even-close-says-uc-san-diego-report-on-gender-in-the-professions/>

Stone, Ken. 2013. "UCSD Scholars to 'End of Men' Folks: You've Gone Way Too Far, Baby." La Jolla Patch. March 19. <http://lajolla.patch.com/groups/opinion/p/ucsd-scholars-to-end-of-men-theorists-you-ve-gone-waye681c41ea0>

Nicolae, Alexandra. 2013. "Men still earn more than women." Adevarul. March. 22. http://adevarul.ro/life-style/stil-de-viata/barbatii-castiga-continua-re-mai-decat-femeile-1_514c7fb000f5182b85403389/index.html

Reported compiled by CRGP Graduate Fellow Laura Pecenco.